Obama moves to brink of victory vs Clinton

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP) — Barack Obama's victory over Hillary Clinton in the presidential election was a historic moment for the United States. Obama, a former community organizer, defeated Clinton, a former first lady and senator, to become the first African American president of the United States.

Obama's victory was a triumph for the underdog. He had entered the race as an underdog challenger to Clinton, who was the overwhelming favorite. Obama's campaign was a grassroots effort, and he won the support of millions of Americans who were tired of the political establishment.
